All shall be well. Julian of Norwich is an anchoress—a woman who has set herself apart for God and lives isolated in a cell. Like her contemporaries of 1373, she is Roman Catholic and believes that the last rites give special sanctifying grace and strengthen a sick person bodily and spiritually at death. Recognizing her need for a deeper love

Answered May 20, 2017. "All is well" would be correct. Usually, "good" is an adjective and modifies nouns. He got a good score on the exam. "Well" is typically an adverb and modifies verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs. He did well on the exam. This rule changes with linking verbs, however, in which both "well" and "good" become adjectives.
